

PlusFeed Select

For lower total cost of data ownership and secure access to real-time market data via leased line.

PlusFeed SelectSM is a hosted and fully managed service that is designed to provide access to global market data in watch-list form, so clients only receive the instruments that they choose. The service is Interactive Data's high-speed digital data feed delivered via leased line using powerful security and encryption technology.

PlusFeed Select can dramatically reduce communication costs for certain clients when compared to the costs of a deployed service, and can allow clients to benefit from not having to maintain data feed servers onsite. The service is delivered via dedicated circuits over the BT Radianz and XO Communications networks.

PlusFeed Select is designed for clients that require:

- A small subset of instruments from many exchanges
- A small subset of instruments from a single exchange with a mix of active and inactive instruments
- Intermittent pricing throughout the trading day for portfolio applications
- A leased-line connection
